Unite to Stop the BNP

We are deeply concerned at the election of an unprecedented number of fascists in the local elections on 1 May 2003. We appeal for the widest possible unity against the BNP and their politics of hate.

In their targeted campaign, with 218 candidates, the BNP won 17 per cent of the vote where they stood, and now, after by elections have 17 local council seats. We call attention to the experience of the last decade in France, where Le Pen's National Front targeted specific areas, building local bases as a springboard into national politics.

We believe the politics of the extreme right pose a serious threat to our democratic values and call for unity against their attempts to whip up racism, hatred and division in local communities.

We stand with the vast majority of electors who, we strongly believe, do not share the vision of the extreme right, and call on them to vote to stop the BNP.

The Coalition Against Racism - Unite to Stop the BNP Campaign is a tripartite partnership between the TUC, local communities and the National Assembly Against Racism, formed to defeat the BNP.

'For evil to triumph all that is necessary is for good people to do nothing'
