Unite to stop the BNP

We are deeply concerned at the election of three members of the British National Party to Burnley Council in May 2002.

We believe the politics of the extreme right pose a serious threat to our democratic values. The incitement to racism and racial violence by the BNP has alarmed people of goodwill across the country. We are committed to the widest possible unity against the BNP and their attempts to whip up racism, hatred and division in local communities.

We stand with the vast majority of electors in Burnley and elsewhere who, we strongly believe, do not share the vision of the extreme right, and call on them to vote to stop the BNP at the earliest opportunity.

We call on those who support a society based on diversity, equality and respect to unite against the BNP.

The Coalition Against Racism – Unite to Stop the BNP Campaign is a national tripartite partnership between the TUC, local communities and the National Assembly Against Racism, formed to defeat the BNP.

Support for the campaign is welcomed from all organisations, which share this aim.
